ITINERARY

DAY 1: ARRIVAL IN COLLIOURÉ OR IN PERPIGNAN

Visit of Collioure, wine tasting and briefing by a local cycling instructor

Welcome to Collioure, the charming Catalan village that inspired the famous painters Matisse and Derain. Lined with vineyard terraces plunging in staircases from the mountains to the sea, you'll enjoy panoramic views, interwoven cobbled streets, art galleries and beaches. Wine tasting available at our partner Sylvain.

Handover of bikes and advice from a local professional at the end of the afternoon.

Dinner on your own and overnight in a hotel in Collioure.

Suggestions (see options tab):

- Pick-up at Perpignan train station or airport and transfer to Collioure.
- Additional night(s) in Collioure
- Catalan wine tasting at Sylvain, our partner wine merchant / art gallery

DAY 2: FROM COLLIOURÉ TO BANYULS

V1 : 25km, 450m D+ ; V2 : 35km, 700m D+

This first day of cycling is a gentle mix of mountains, vineyards and crystal-clear creeks... You head for the mountains, sheltered from tourists, which smell of ubiquitous Mediterranean flora. You overlook ancient vineyard terraces, plunging down a staircase to the coves of the Côte Vermeille.

This cycling stage takes you right up close to nature, in a sublime setting where Catalans have been developing the resources of their land since the Middle Ages.

At the end of the day, we invite you to taste their wine in the bay of Paulilles, before taking a dip in the clear waters of the sea below.

Arrival in Banyuls. Dinner on your own and overnight in a hotel in Banyuls.

Suggestion (see options tab):

- Wine tasting and swimming in Paulilles Bay

Level 1 route: 28 km, +525 m / -525 m elevation, 100% small roads.

Level 2 route: 38 km, +1070 m / -1070 m elevation, 70% small roads, 30% trail.

DAY 3: BANYULS, CERBÈRE AND THE UNDERWATER TRAIL

V1 : 25km, 650m D+ ; V2 : 45km, 800m D+

The colorful ambience of the holiday is gradually taking hold of you, as the day promises to be radiant! A cool climb up to the mountains, where you may notice small cactus-like shrubs growing small, colorful fruits... And yes, the prickly pear joins the landscape, heralding your descent southwards.

You pedal towards the ridges that form a natural border between France and Spain, where you'll be tomorrow. Pass Cerbères, the last small French port. Known for its exceptional nature reserve, we suggest you round off your day with a snorkeling trip along the underwater trail. During this fun outing, you'll swim along a signposted path to discover the beauty of underwater life.

On arrival in Banyuls, we'll treat you to a tasting with our friends Vincent, Augustin and Martin. These brothers have taken over from their father Marc, who passed on to them his peasant vision of wine.

Dinner on your own and 2nd night in a hotel in Banyuls.

Suggestions:

- Snorkeling on the underwater trail of the Banyuls reserve
- Tasting of dry Collioure wines and sweet Banyuls wines on a family estate
- Sunset sea-kayak outing from the beach of Banyuls-sur-Mer

Level 1 route: 26 km, +650 m / -650 m elevation, 70% small roads / 30% trail.

Level 2 route: 46 km, +1110 m / -1110 m elevation, 52% trail / 48% small roads..

DAY 4: FROM BANYULS TO PORT DE LA SELVA

V1 : 40km, 820m D+ ; V2 : 50km, 900m D+

Off to Spain for another day. Hidden away from the touristy Costa Brava by Cap de Creus, you enter Spanish lands that have remained timeless. Passing through the small Benedictine abbey of Saint Quirze, lost in the heart of the Albères mountains. Finally, you descend through fields of olive trees, holm oaks, arbutus, cists... where the scents of thyme and rosemary gradually mingle with sea spray.

Arrive at the small Spanish fishing port of Puerto de la Selva, where you can enjoy some tapas by the sea.

Dinner and overnight in your hotel in Puerto de la Selva (or Llançà).

Level 1 route: 40 km, +780 m / -780 m elevation (if finishing in Llançà), 70% small roads / 30% trail.

Level 1' route: 46 km, +825 m / -825 m elevation (if finishing in Port de la Selva), 74% small roads / 26% trail.

Level 2 route: 34 km, +890 m / -890 m elevation (if finishing in Llançà), 60% trail / 40% small roads.

Level 2' route: 40 km, +890 m / -890 m elevation (if finishing in Port de la Selva), 65% trail / 35% small roads.

DAY 5: FROM PORT DE LA SELVA TO CADAQUÉS

V1 : 18km, 350m D+ ; V2 : 35km, 600m D+

Leaving Puerto de la Selva, you pedal towards the Cap del Creus nature park along ancestral paths bordered by attractive dry-stone walls. Founded in 1998, the national park contrasts with the coast to the south, as it is the largest uninhabited coastal area in Spain. The landscape has therefore remained untouched, almost unchanged since the creation of the surrounding villages by the Greeks and Romans. Arrive in Cadaqués, where the crystal-clear waters of the sea are reflected in the beautiful white houses.

Dinner at your own and overnight in your hotel in Cadaqués.

Level 1 route: 20 km, +360 m / -375 m elevation, 65% small roads / 35% trail.

Level 2 route: 42 km, +940 m / -940 m elevation, 70% trail / 30% small roads.

DAY 6: DISCOVER THE CAP DEL CREUS NATURE PARK - CADAQUÉS

V1 : 27km, 550m D+ ; V2 : 42km, 800m D+

This morning, you'll set off from Cadaqués in the heart of the Cap del Creus nature park to discover coves, ancestral paths and, of course, the cape, which looks like the end of the world. Lunch is available at the lighthouse restaurant, with its stunning sea views. In the afternoon, we recommend our favorite coves, where you can swim in the heart of nature.

Back to the "white village", where we warmly recommend a visit to Dalí's house in Portlligat.

Dinner on your own and 2nd night in your hotel in Cadaqués.

Suggestions:

- Visit Dalí's house in Portlligat
- Lunch at the Cap del Creus lighthouse
- Swimming in wild coves

Level 1 route: 31 km, +634 m / -634 m elevation, 50% trail / 50% small roads.

Level 2 route: 40 km, +850 m / -850 m elevation, 70% trail (including 5 km of technical singletrack) / 30% small roads.

DAY 7: ARRIVAL IN COLLIOUR OR IN PERPIGNAN

1h15 of transfer

Breakfast in Cadaqués. Departure at 10am for your private transfer to Collioure or Perpignan, arriving late morning.

Note: The bikes are returned using the same taxi.

LEVEL AND NATURE OF THE TERRAIN

We offer two route options each day, with two different difficulty levels.

Level 1:

Daily stages range from 20 to 40 km, with elevation gains between 360 and 780 meters. Average surface: 70% small roads / 30% wide trails

Level 2:

Daily stages range from 40 to 50 km, with elevation gains between 850 and 1110 meters. Average surface: 44% small roads / 56% wide trails

NATURE OF THE TERRAIN

The stages take in little-traveled roads, tracks and paths with small obstacles (stones, ruts, etc.) but no real difficulties. Some ascents and descents can be steep, requiring good physical condition and occasional cycling experience. Our Level 2 tracks emphasize off-road practice.

For these reasons, we recommend an All road e-bike or an electric mountain bike for intermediate-level riders on this trip. These options provide comfort and safety.

Urban-style electric bikes are not permitted.

The ideal bike for this trip for an experienced and athletic rider is a gravel bike.

A WILD ROUTE

PLEASE NOTE: this route takes paths and small roads that are sometimes wild.

You will have to be independent in order to repair a puncture or a broken chain if necessary. A professional will come and give you the bikes and your repair kit in Collioure and will tell you what to do.

REVIEWS

JEAN-PHILIPPE - POSTED ON AUGUST 5, 2023

Travel from 07/29 to 08/04/2023

Hello, Here is a debrief of our week. Generally speaking, we appreciated the very quiet roads and paths, ideal for cycling. Evening stops in the heart of the seaside villages: very nice to end with swimming in the sea. Everything is doable by electric bike. In classic cycling, good physical condition is necessary and you must enjoy climbing passes.

In conclusion, we validate and recommend !
